

Females for Finance

Females for Finance is an online program for girls in high school to develop financial literacy, gain basic knowledge and experience with money management and investing, and be introduced to the finance world and its different career paths. Our program offers high achieving girls from diverse backgrounds the opportunity to jump start their careers through education, mentorship and networking.

Education

Participants will engage in a five-week program consisting of biweekly seminars covering a variety of topics relating to financial literacy, investing and empowerment of women in a traditionally male dominated space. Seminars will cover budgeting, credit, investing, banking careers and more.

Mentorship

Participants will be paired with mentors who will provide professional as well as academic advice, and support the girls through the programs. Mentors are undergraduate women at Yale University, studying economics and/or pursuing careers in finance.

Networking

We aim to facilitate a lifelong network of like-minded women in the finance industry. Participants will be offered networking opportunities and encouraged to participate in a supportive female community.
