DEFINE KEY VOCABULARY: ALCOHOL:
DE	DEPRESSANT:
INI	INHIBITION:
ME	ETABOLIZE:
1.	What is the active chemical compound in alcohol?
2.	Describe the effect of a depressant on the central nervous system.
3.	Define Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC).
4.	List at least 10 possible symptoms of a hangover.
5.	Identify four factors that influence the level of BAC in an individuals bloodstream.
6.	Why does alcohol consumption reduce a person's inhibition>
7.	Why id drinking a lot of alcohol in a relatively short period of time overwhelming for the body?

Alcohol: Bookwork (Pages 286-291)

8. Assignment DUE TUES 10-15: Imagine that you write an advice column for your school newspaper. It is your job to naturally answer all questions that get submitted to the newspaper. Suppose you receive a letter from a sophomore who wrote the following letter.
"My brother is in college. Ever since he turned 21, he has been drinking heavily every weekend. When I asked him why, he says because it is legal. I am really worried about his health. Can you please tell me how alcoaffects the body, especially the brain?
Signed, Sophomore Sibling HOW WOULD YOU RESPOND TO THIS LETTER? Write a response using complete sentences and the textbook to support your response.							