Co:Writer Universal

- Co:Writer is available across multiple platforms.
- It can be used on a Mac or PC desktop, iOS device, an extension in Chrome, and as an App for Chrome

Desktop	Extension for Chrome	App for Chrome	iOS App
Works along side of OTHER programs as a floating window Co:Writer for desktop will run with programs such as MS Word, Excel, Evernote Desktop, as well as anything that runs in your browser. The Co:Writer extension for Chrome™ runs with anything you can launch within your Chrome browser such as email, Edmodo, Evernote Web, Google Docs, and more.		Works as a "stand alone" program This is an accessible talking word processor AND word prediction program. Talking word processing features: • Image support • Adjust font size • Speak text with word highlighting • Speak as write letters, words, and/or sentences • Adjust formatting • Export to Google Drive, Dropbox, Facebook, copy, print, and more.

Having students use Co:Writer Universal

- Open Co:Writer Universal
- Select Sign in with Google
- Student enters their school email and password

Chromebooks

- The chromebooks have the chrome app and extension installed. If you do not see the extension, open up chrome, click on the folder with bookmarks and select Get Co:Writer Extension. Follow the prompts to load the extension. Then you will see the co:writer bubble to the right of the address bar in chrome.

Using Co:Writer Universal at home

- If a student wants to use Co:Writer at home, they can go to the following address to download Co:Writer for the platform that they need: http://donjohnston.com/download-cowriter
- On an iOS device, they download Co:Writer Universal
- Once it's downloaded, the will sign in with Google and use their school email and password