A jungle, "The Black Board Jungle", is what someone called it.
Life; complex, confused, uncertain. It's our life; our school life.
We grab hold of something which isn't there but we feel it.
Is it security and happiness?
Perhaps it's the satisfaction of having strong leadership.
New people, foreign people with different ideas, enlighten us. Some cleave to school pride and spirit. Is this love? Traditions add to pride. Doesn't the Bag Rush or May Day bring back memories?
Winning awards is another part of happiness that binds the jungle webb.
Yet some students grasp further identity, they want change.
Choice of dress and music become their second world.
School is really not a jungle; it's a refuge to house the inexperienced and prepare them for the real jungle outside.
Think over past experiences and don't forget them. "You can close your eyes to reality but not to memories" (Lec)

Mathematics And Science

Mr. Hartfeil, General Math

Mr. Phillips, Algebra

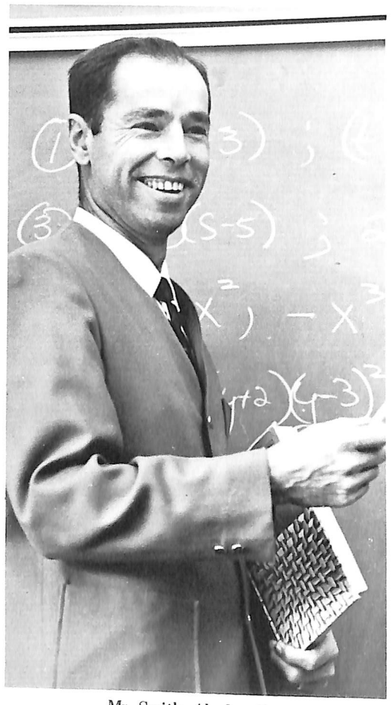

Mrs. Lightowler, Algebra

From the associative property to one-zillionth fraction of an inch, from line A to line Z, stretch the theories of the proverbial modern math. Parents avoid it, students learn it and teachers explain it. Classes from General Math to Calculus all find a place in the school. On the blackboards, in the book, from the teachers, the "mathematicians" absorb the knowledge which will help them to measure circles, define parallelograms, and simply check the next column of numbers.

Mr. Snell, Physics

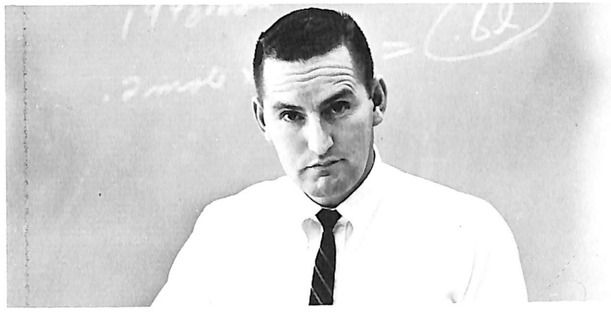

Mr. Smith, Algebra II

Mr. Turcotte, General Math

Mr. Nixon, Biology

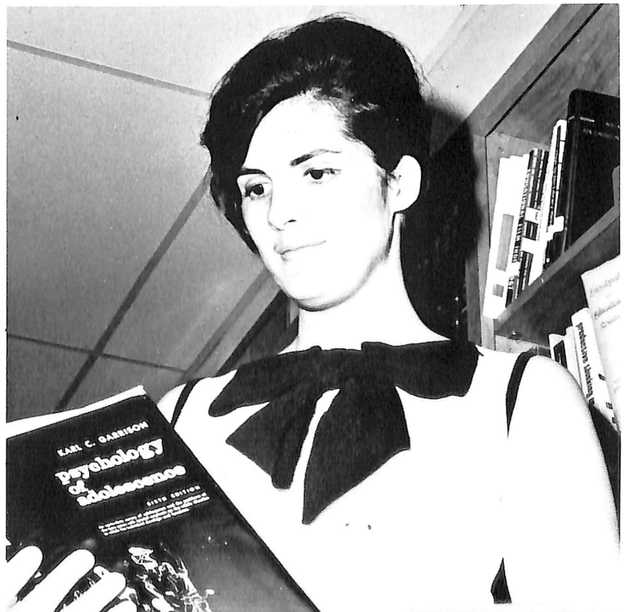

Mr. Johnson, Biology

Mr. McKie, General Science

One day Archimedes stepped into his bath-tub and he suddenly realized what water displacement was. Newton was said to have discovered gravity when an apple fell on his head. The word is "casual." And who knows what scientific minds are emerging in the casual atmosphere of chemistry and biology classes? Teacher and students learn as experiments and lab exercises are conducted in class rooms equipped with the tools necessary for good understanding.

Mr. Davis, World Today

Mr. Lee, U.S. History

To what can the U.S. attribute its post-war expansion? Who was responsible for our policy of deterence in the '50's? What law abolishes unfair railroad rebates? Many seek answers for these questions in World Today, Modern Problems, and World History . . . are you interested? (Answers below)

These classes are some of the most useful our school offers. Physical Education offers the daily exercise that teens need, while Industrial Arts train the students in skills that may very well turn into an occupation later in life. Ready... deep knee bends...begin. One-two, one-two. Where did that saber-saw get to? Sound familiar? It should. Everyone has taken P.E. or Industrial Arts.

Mrs. Canon, English III; Dept. Head

Have you ever been an actor, a magazine editor, a newspaper reporter, an orator, and a radio announcer all in the same year? No? Remember your English class . . . . the plays, poems, short stories and essays, novels, notebooks, and articles you read and wrote. If English has ever seemed dull or boring, think back to all this; then reconsider, and admit it was a challenge.

Music

It follows you, you cannot rid yourself of it, but then, you do not wish to, because it is... music, A tune that sticks in your mind, a popular song, a church hymn, or your humming and whistling. Girls' League officers for the 1968-69 year were: Joanna Dobson, president; Veronica Eitzenhoefer, historian; Debbie Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer; Cindy Green, vice president; and Val McIntyre, room attendant.

President Joanna Dobson introduces guests at the Father-Daughter Banquet.

Colleen Wenrick and her father enjoy the entertainment at the Father-Daughter Banquet.

Girls' League

Under the leadership of president Joanna Dobson, a long list of activities combined to make a successful year for Girls' League. The Big Sister-Little Sister Tea was the first order of business with a host of dances and programs to follow. Twirp Season, Cotton Day, and the Father-Daughter Banquet provided the highlights of the year. The Mother-Daughter Tea finished up the year with the introduction of new officers. Fun as well as service were all a part of this year's Girls' League.

Marilyn Carter models a sporty ensemble during a Girls' League fashion show.

Chosen to this years Cotton Day Court were Ruth Schumacher, Queen Jamie Buckiewicz, and Mary Lou Phinney.

Girls of the Month selected for the 1968-69 school year were:

Jenny Stone	September	Sweetness
Jeannie Martwick	October	Friendliness
Norma Guiss	November	Sincerity
Kathy Ray	December	Individuality
Bev Gerow	January	Personality
Joanna Dobson	February	Leadership
Chris Hickman	March	Talent
Debbie Zimmerman	April	Happiest

Named Girl of the Year was friendly Jeannie Martwick.

Big Sister Barb Doty and Little Sister Debbie Lohman get acquainted over their lunches.

Student Council

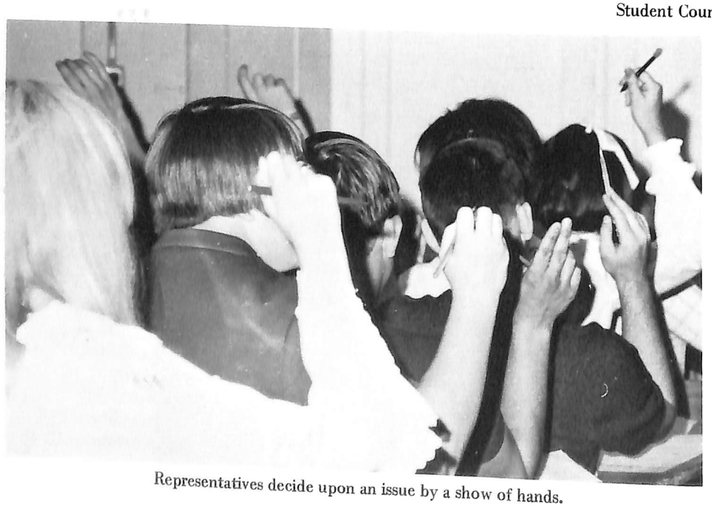

Abbas and John participate in student government.

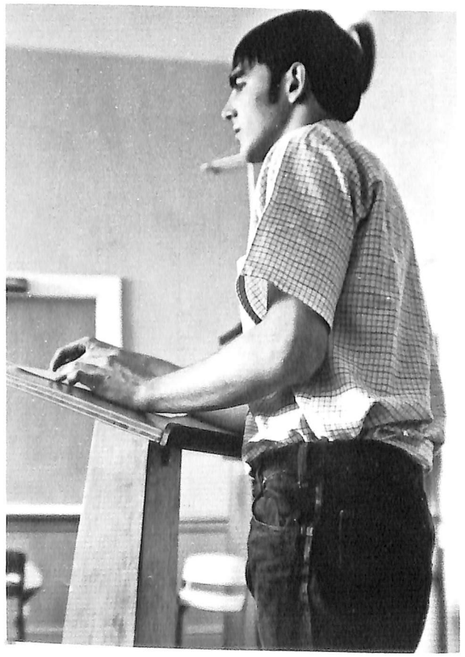

Discussions and decisions on issues brought before them moved Student Council through the year under the leadership of student body vice president Rick Rollins. They coordinated students' ideas and proposals into the curriculum and student government. The Senior Action Committee brought their propositions before the Student Council causing an evaluation of established rules. A Peace Corps school, a project of the entire school district, took special interest in the spring as a committee of Student Council members sold Beaver Baseball tickets. In a year of controversy, changes were made and goals achieved.

Student Council advisor, Mr. Gettel, makes a point clear.

Representatives decide upon an issue by a show of hands.

Rick Rollins, chairman, leads meeting.

S.B. Secretary Hollis Thomas reads the minutes.

I won't conform;
Yet I struggle to fit in,
To find a place where I belong.
I watch those around me . . . .their dress,
Their behavior . . .
Accepting, rejecting.
My choices, my innovations
Develop the personality

Gayla Cushman, Sue Belloni and Becky Green, Student Council members.

Uniquely mine.
Ideas clash.
I learn to question the values that others
Would impose on me, without my consent.
I left up my voice in argument and in protest.
In return, let me think and act.
To govern or be governed-
That is the question.

Rawn Stone and Carol Stack take part in a debate contest.

Vicki Dippner in her humorous interp.

Eleven times, the Forensics brought home trophies as their state-wide reputation in speaking widened. The tournament season was climaxed by the Linfield meet where they captured two first place trophies, one second place and three third place.

But tournaments aren't all serious situations. Drinking Pepsi out of sugar bowls and dropping Dream Whip on your foot in the middle of your speech or maybe even getting a stryrofoam ring stuck around your middle are all a part of this speech team's memories. 1968-69 was an outstanding year for Forensics.

Terry Taylor, Sue Lind, Organizations.

Advisor Mrs. Martin assists Jean Sullivan with a layout.

New teachers, student teachers, a resource center, and the State Evaluation Board became a bundle of newness that crept within the halls of W.L.H.S. The constant motion of living, thinking people; learning and growing; created many events we have only a few pages to record. This is regretful. Take note, though, if you recall events that are left out, you don't need an annual to remind you of them; they are already in your heart.

I would like to give a sincere thanks to my staff who did their best for you. The photographers this year are the finest we've ever had. Mr. Greenlee can be proud of the work they all did. Mrs. Martin, annual advisor, deserves much credit for her endless help, too.

I hope you find the Green and Gold of 1969 a book of quality and find pleasure in looking and reading it. Our main concern this year was to give the students what they wanted; so here it is. Enjoy it for a lifetime; the memories of '68 - '69.

Sincerely,
Veronica Eitzenhoefer, editor

TSO

Hammering, sawing, and general building were all tasks undertaken by TSO. After long hours of work, sets took shape. Productions benefited from their skills of painting, wiring, designing, and lighting. Mr. Postlewait, TSO's advisor, led them through a successful and useful second year of existence. For all those who saw their work, it speaks for itself. Officers for the past year were: John Steele, president; Jon Buckley, vice president; and Terry Bruce, secretary - treasurer.

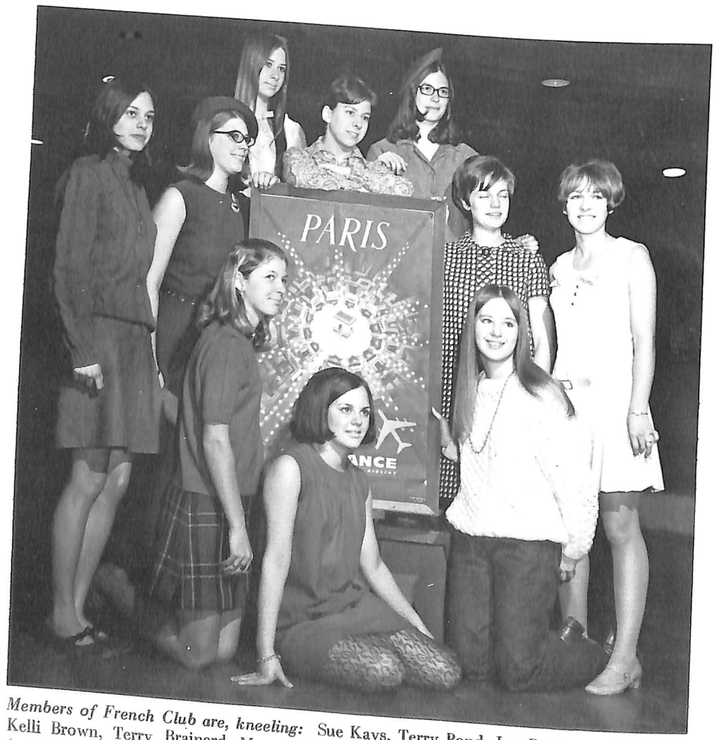

Mr. Postlewait is seen here supervising some TSO project.

A set for "Darkness at Noon" begins to take shape.

Ski Club

Thirty skiing students headed by bus for Multipor, as again this year the Ski Club spent the snowy weekends skiing down the slopes of Mt. Hood. In addition to their weekend excursions, and overnight trip to Mt. Bachelor highlighted the ski season.

For the first time, a ski team competed with other schools. Although the ski team failed to qualify for the state ski meet, they showed potential for the coming year.

Kaleidescope

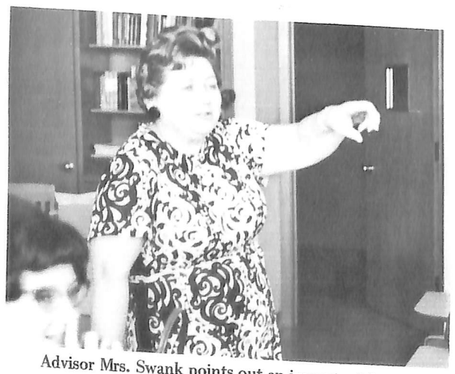

The Kaleidescope staff listens to Mrs. Swank as she explains the fundamentals of their publication.

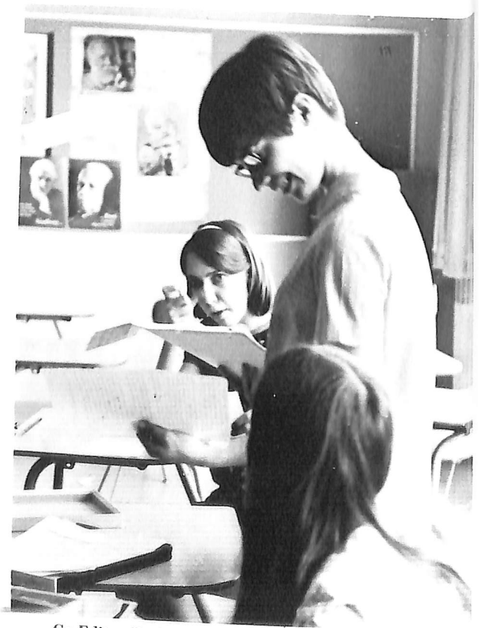

Norma Guiss, Dorothy Rosenberry, and Karen Gustafson analyse bits of poetry.

Creativity through poetry and prose is the basis upon which "Kaleidescope" is built. Combining literary efforts of students throughout the school, the Kaleidescope staff was guided by Co-Editors Charlotte Lehan and Becky Hanson. The finished book is one full of imagination and ideas of which the staff can be proud.

Advisor Mrs. Swank points out an important fact.

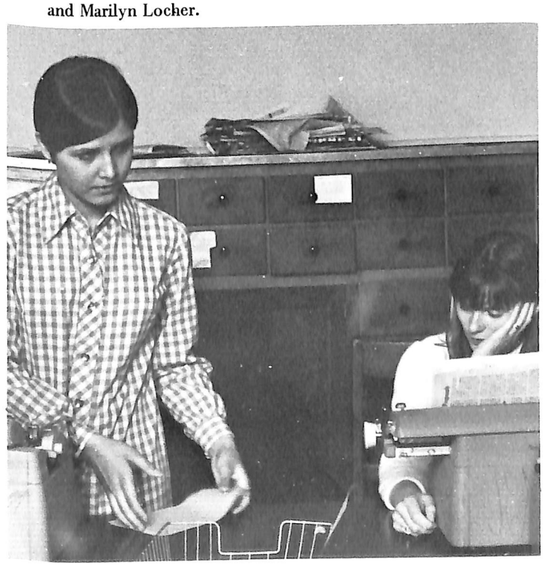

Co-Editor Becky Hansen looks over the progress.

Barb Doty examines the finished product.

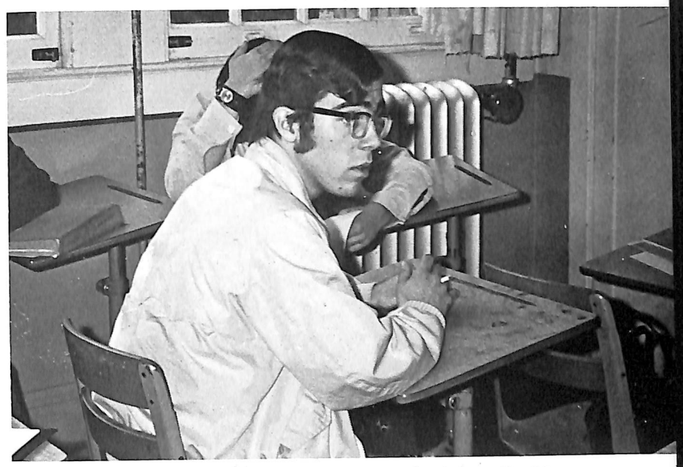

Mr. Pond, advisor, discusses a point with reporters Dick Sullivan and Marilyn Locher.

Debbie Gefroh and Carol Wright work on their stories.

Amplifier

Editor Kirk Jones thinks over an idea for an editorial.

Working under the direction of editor Kirk Jones, the Amplifier covered the school's events as well as incorporating opinions through their editorials and features. "Words of Youth" was a new addition this year as works of various students in the field of poetry were published. For the first time, the paper reached a record twelve pages, the largest edition ever printed. Acting as advisor again as in the past was Mr. Wallace Pond who informed the staff as to new techniques in the newspaper field.

Typing up the stories is undertaken by Jeannie Martwick.

Art Club

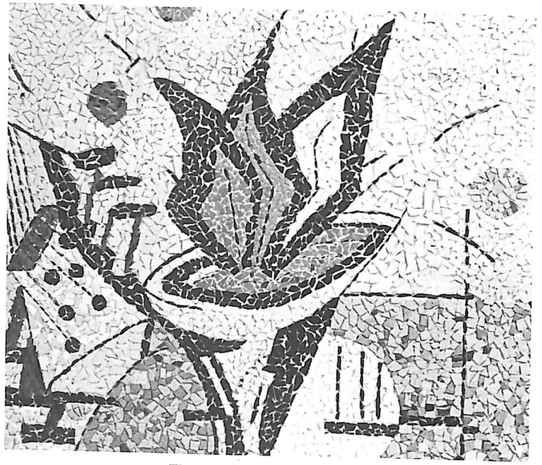

A new mosaic to hang next to the older mosaic was the major accomplishment of this year's Art Club. Built by Art Club members, it symbolizes the many fac[illegible]s of our school. Within it, the f[illegible]res represent a[illegible]ic quality, artistic endeavors, and the exploration into the fields of math and music. Designed by Mr. Norman Bursheim, it is a fine addition to the walls of WLHS.

As a money-making project, candy canes were sold as well as pins made by the members themselves, adding to the Christmas spirit among students.

Julie Stevenson served as president for the year while vice-president was Raylene Losch and secretary-treasurer was Sue Lind.

Future Homemakers Of America

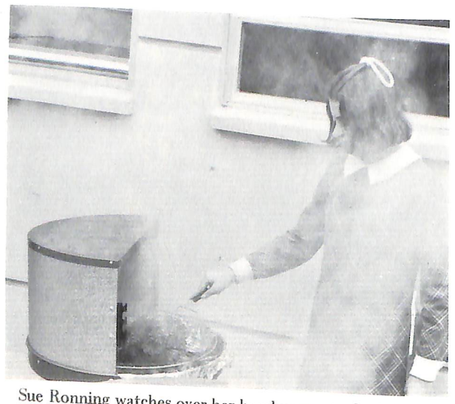

Following the leadership of president Joan Buse, FHA members found themselves involved in an activi[illegible]cked year. Barbeques and pot-luck dinners highlighted their after school hours. In the fall, the Donut Court, sponsored by FHA; helped to acquaint new Freshmen to the student body. The Mother-Daughter Tea found FHA putting on their annual fashion show for the enjoyment of both the mothers and the girls. Other officers assisting Joan were vice-president, Cindy Green, treasurer, Karen Brown, secretary, Sandy Cushman, historain, Becky Sloan, and reporter, Carla Hoy.

Future Farmers Of America

A long list of awards and honors were earned by the FFA during the past months. Their Parliamentary Procedure Team took a first place in sectional competition and went on to take second at state. In judging, two first places were won by the Livestock Judging Team at the Clackamas and Columbia County Fairs. Capturing individual honors were Dennis Geenman, Grand Champion Livestock Showman at the Clackamas County Fair, and Rudie Luscher, Champion FFA Dairy Exhibitor at the Oregon State Fair.

Entertainment at a pep assembly is provided by the Debs.

Debutantes, again as in years past, provided their talented performances of dance routines. Hours of practice and hard work were needed to learn the steps and kicks. Their polished performances highlighted football and basketball halftimes and graced May Day. Dance leader, Julie Templeton and assistant dance leader, Julie Reddaway combined the twenty-one separate girls into one dance unit.

FTA

The Future Teachers of America is a service club. This year we have p .pated in two smoking survey's at the grade schools and an observation day at the elementary schools. We have done several projects for W.L.E.A.

Next year, hopefully, we will begin a program of cadet teaching at the grade schools and assisting those interested Juniors and Seniors.

Senior Business

Although our club was smaller than some of the previous years, we worked together and provided a good year for our members. Our club promoted varied business careers after graduation, such as secretarial, recorder, or file clerk. Next year we hope the club gets even better.

The Senior Business Club's various activities for the past year include a Van Dynn candy sale, a Miss Charity canned food drive during the Christmas season, and a trip to see the movie, "Funny Girl."

Distributive Education

The Distributive Education Club runs the Lions Lair, which has doubled its volume of sales from last year. The new printing press makes many of the signs, ribbons, and tickets that the school and clubs use. We also assist in ordering pins, class rings, and senior announcements.

The D.E. I and D.E. II classes train for future jobs by class work, sales, demonstrations, and window displays. D.E. also has various activities such as a candy sale, a dance, an annual banquet and attendance at the state D.E.C.O. convention.

Last summer the Varsity Lions began training for the grueling football season ahead. Many boys were stiff and out of shape, but head coach Dan Rollins, made sure his team was in prime condition when at the first game they met Newberg on their own home ground. Newberg went home carrying a sound defeat as did Mac, Tigard, and St. Helens in the weeks following.

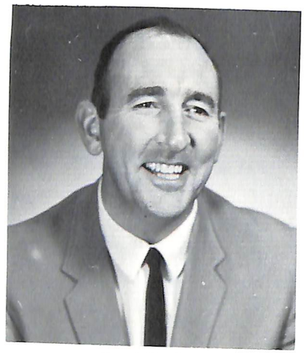

The Forest Grove game was a surprise to West Linn fans because the headstrong Lions were laid back on their heels with a 14-13 Forest Grove victory. The next week the Lions came out on top of Dallas to maintain their 2nd place league standing.

First place Lake Oswego was the next fight and although the Lions played a good game by fighting their hardest, the Lions lost 26-0.

After a week of rivalry between the O.C. Pioneers and the Lions, the two teams clashed on the football field. Unfortunately the Pioneers came out on top of the battle leaving the Lions to swallow their pride and accept a defeat of 13-0.

Finishing the season, the Tillamook mudbath handed West Linn a 20-13 victory and a league standing of third.

Bernie May was voted Most Inspirational Player and Mr. Touchdown. His T.D. record ranked him 1st in state with 121 points. Rich Rollins, Bernie May, and Joe Leatherberry were chosen for the All League Team. Bernie was also on the 2nd team all state and Joe achieved honorable mention.

Despite the loss of four starting players to the Varsity team, the Junior Varsity squad proved themselves capable performers on the gridiron. After two shut-out defeats from Newberg and McMinnville, the West Linn J.V.'s came back to beat Tigard 28-0. The defense had a workout in the remainder of games. Gaining valuable experience in a losing season, the J.V.'s stumbled to a 1-win, 6-loss, 1-tie season. Next year, the spirited young Lions will enhance our Varsity football team with a little more know-how and many more hard practices.

A Freshman football team's drive and determination is the basis upon which their game is played. Lack of experience is overcome. Boys playing against one another only a year ago, now act together as a team. If numbers are any indication of strength, then the Varsity coaches have a bright team to look forward to. This Freshman team is one of the largest ever with examples of great potential in all departments. Outstanding performances and coordinated teamwork all combine to make them possible league leaders in 1972. As a team with the will to win, the Freshmen will, in the next few years, bring pride to our football field.

Cross Country

Lake Oswego and Tigard proved to be the only obstacles in the way of our Cross Country team having a near perfect season. The Varsity squad, made up of one senior, six juniors, and one sophomore, lost to these two teams during both the regular season and the District Cross Country Meet held at Waluga Junior High School.

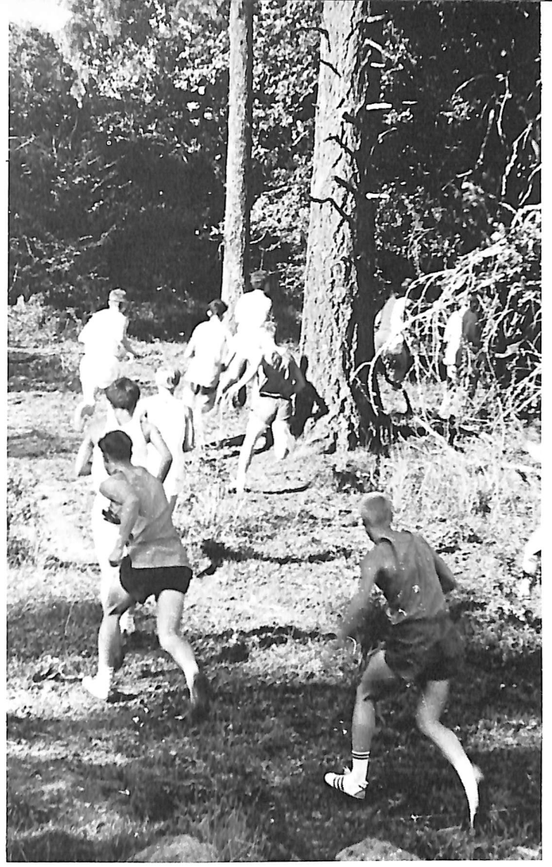

Row One: T. Green, D. Fowler, R. New, R. Grunst, K. Boeckman. Row Two: Coach Smith, G. Hundahl, P. Hundahl, L. Dresselhaus, E. Reseigh, G. Hammersley. Row Three: J. Parra, K. Gregor, J. Unbras, G. Crampton, K. Bohna.

Because this team placed third in the District Meet, they were eligible to compete in the State Meet at Willamette University. Steve Robinson, who was the first West Linn runner to cross the finish line, placed 68th out of 123 contestants.

Although disappointed by the overall position at the end of the race, the young team, with the experience gained at the State Meet, was able to look forward to a bright season next year.

Swimming

Mighty strokes and streamlined kicks moved our swim team through long hours of practice and a record of 4 wins and 7 losses. Head coach Elaine Mackey trained her team well. Events her girls entered were: 200 ayrd free style, 50 and 00 yard backstroke, butterfly, breast stroke, and frees tyle.

Sandy was the site of the district swim meet in which Dawn Smith placed 3rd in 50 and 100 yard breast stroke, and Norma Guiss took 3rd in 100 yard butterfly and 1st in 200 yard free style meet in Eugene. This was the 3rd year straight Norma has gone to state for the W.L. Swim team.

Roundballers Roll Into Season With '69 Spirit

The Lions, picked to finish fifth in the league, ended the season with an overall mark of 7-11. Although we lost many of our seniors early in the season, the new young team fought its hardest to bring home wins for West Linn. Holding on to a 3 win 6 loss record the first half, we started off the second half league with a win over Dallas. Our roundballers fell to a losing streak of four games but came back to defeat Tigard 50-45. Finishing the season with a double win over Forest Grove and Tillamook, the Lions retired. Senior letterman and floorleader, Archie Cunningham, averaged 13 points per game and although Rick Rollins was out because of illness at the close of the season, he averaged 10 points per game.

J.V. Lions . . . headed by honorary captain Jim Hastings, also voted most valuable, most inspirational, and best defensive player, won only 5 of their 20 games. While weak on scoring, the Junior Varsity played fine defensive games. Gene Crampton, Mark Goldade, and Rich Young were moved up from the J.V.'s to play on the varsity squad, leaving Ed Berglund leading scorer and Mark Goldade with the highest field goal average. A little more hard work and consistency of efforts will produce a varsity team next year that will make the student body proud.

Freshmen . . . taking a 13 win 5 loss record had a grand season. With a little work and some added experience these young basketball players will make a fine varsity team in 1972.

Stealing some of the spotlight from the roundballers, the West Linn wrestlers drew some of the larger crowds, due to fine individual efforts. Before this season, a cradle was something for a baby, but to the students of West Linn, it meant a sure pin for Dave Sparks. Dave's record of 24 wins and 2 losses, 20 of those wins by pins was followed closely by Gordon Johnson's, who also had a superlative season.

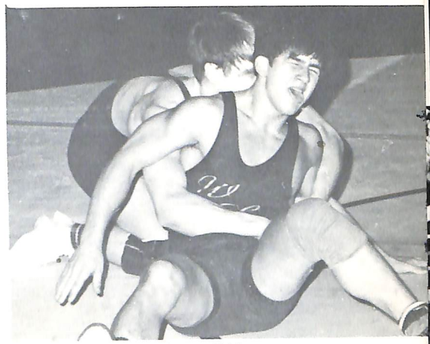

A team is not made up of only two grapplers for the rest of the team met opponent after opponent and bravely fought with spirit and determination. Our matmen placed 6th in the District Tournament with Dave and Gordon taking 2nd place ratings and Doug Kingsborough and Pete Kincart placing 4th to add more points to the cause. Repserenting us at the state tournament in Corvallis were Gordon Johnson and Dave Sparks. Dave Sparks, W.L.'s outstanding wrestler of the year, placed 2nd at state.

6 Wins - 7 Losses

The count is 2 and 1, the pitcher, Brad Blake, winds up and releases another strike ball but it is hit into far left field. The opponent presses hard and West Linn is narrowly dropped. So went the Lion hard-ballers' season for 1969. The team was young and all were steady, strong hitters. The most outstanding game of the season was one with Lake Oswego.

In the first inning, Scott Smith hit a triple bringing Roger Fetz in to score. The second inning was Roger's as he hit a double, knocking in Doug Wood and Eric Munson. Arbie Mushlitz, also, was credited with an RBI. In the sixth, Roger again hit a double and Dave Sparks walked across for the run. Of four times at bat, Roger hit 3 and had 3 RBI's. The final score was a triumphant 5-3 over the Lakers.

Perhaps one of the strongest track teams in the history of West Linn, this year's squad had depth in all events, although the sprints proved to be the top point getters. Bernie May, in the high and low hurdles, dominated the league as well as Tom Mickelsen and Dennis Dimick in the 100 and 220 yd. dashes. Steve Robinson was a standout in the endurance races and Dave Koellermeier out distanced most of his opponents in the long jump. Both the 440 relay and mile relay teams were near the top in the league throughout the season.

A second place finish in the Laker Relays, and fifth at the District meet are examples of the success experienced by the Lions. Seven individuals, including Bernie May, Dennis Dimick, Tom Mickelsen, Jerry Bremmeyer, Mike Pike, Bob Wilson and Steve Robinson qualified at the District meet to participate at the state track meet held at OSU.

Great potential for the future was exhibited by this year's J.V. squad. Football Homecoming '68

FALL FANTASY

As the 1968 Football Homecoming drew near, anticipation grew to a feverish height. The West Linn Lions had a 5-win, 1-loss record and stood a good chance of going on to State if they overpowered Oswego that night. Sign-covered halls and cheering crowds proclaimed the team's intentions to "sink the Lakers." Although they lost that night by a score of 27-0, the gold-clad Lions were never short of courage or determination to do their best.

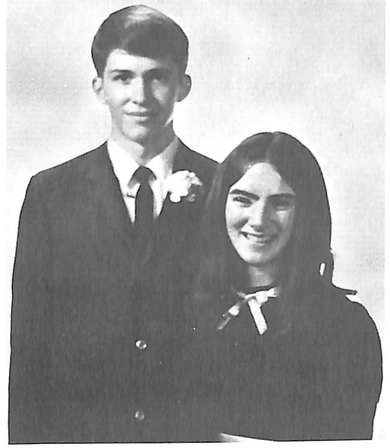

Defeat became a thing of the past at the after game dance. The mood was a festive one as Glenda Bobillot was crowned queen and she and her court led the traditional first dance.

A mixture of special ingredients were combined to make an extra-special helping of 1969 Basketball Homecoming. A dash of anticipation, a cup of spirit, and a large portion of excitement were used to make this Homecoming memorable.

Four lovely princesses met the acclaim of their classmates as they were introduced at the pep assembly. The identity of the queen was a surprise saved for that night.

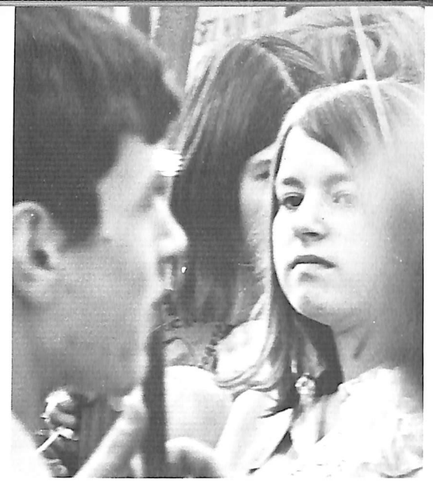

That evening the spirit had not flagged as the attention of our student body turned to the basketball court. The Lions fought hard against the Newberg Tigers but the final buzzer found West Linn short of victory by two points.

Defeat didn't dampen spirits as Juniors Carla Hoy and Mike Pike were announced as queen and king at the dance following the game. They ruled in an atmosphere of fun and thorough enjoyment that was Basketball Homecoming this year.

Elections . . . we remember the enthusiastic campaigning of supporters and the excited anticipation of candidates, poster-covered halls, paper-littered floors and general chaos.

The Voter's Guide listed the qualifications of each of the eighteen candidates, six for each office. Campaign day broke with a storm of hectic activities in speeches, before the Student Body and tense anticipation reigned until the outcome of the next day's voting was announced.

The Drama Department

Presents

"THE MADWOMAN OF CHAILLOT"

A cast of ragpickers and peddlers, flower girls and jugglers under the able guidance of the Countess Aurelia brought to life the story of a fantasy world built in lively imaginations. The world is threatened as oil is discovered beneath the streets of Chaillot and big business enters the picture. Suspense and drama builds as a defense takes shape and in the final scene finds good triumphing over evil in this timeless satire on life.

Ragpicker acts as defense in the Madwomen's trial.

Mdm. Constance stubbornly refuses to admit that her imaginary dog "Dicky" isn't there.

Marta McIntosh performs as street singer.

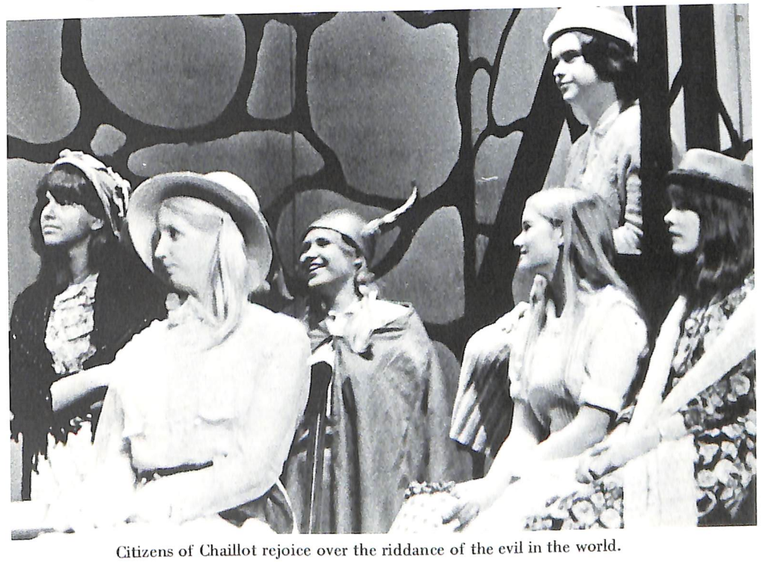

Prospectors discuss plot to reach oil beneath Chaillot.

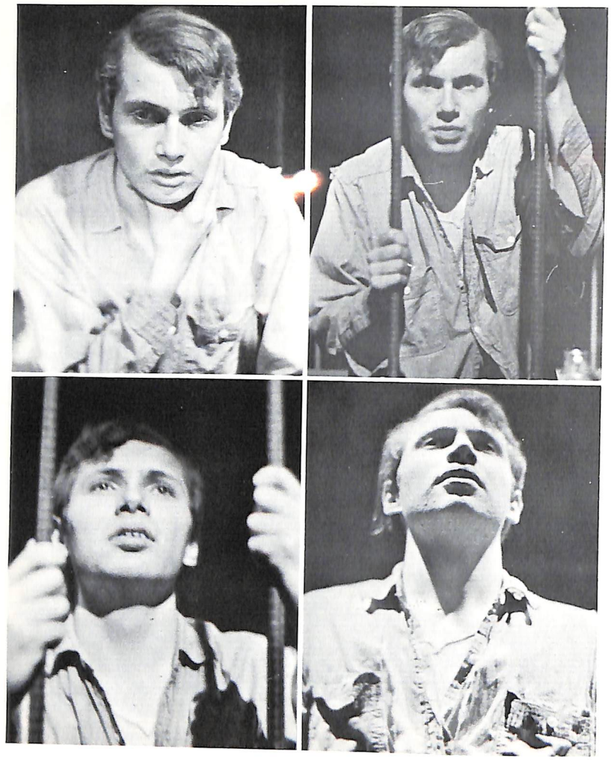

Madame Constance questions ragpicker in trial.

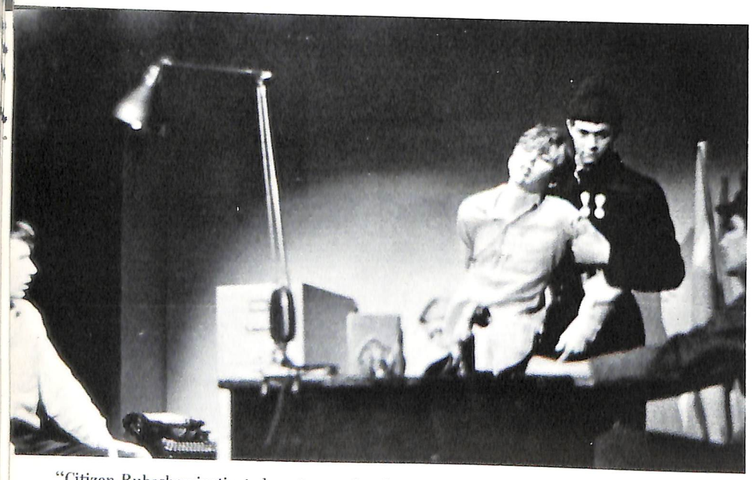

Citizens of Chaillot rejoice over the riddance of the evil in the world.

"What if we could only say 'No' to The Party?" Luba

DARKNESS AT NOON

"Darkness at Noon" was set in a prison, twenty years after the Communist revolution in Russia. The story was based upon actual events, Stalin's purges of 1937. At the time of the revolution, the Russians had hoped to create a "new life for mankind": one of equality and justice, but as we all know, the Czarist dictator, Nicholas II, was replaced by a Communist dictator, Joseph Stalin. The Russians wanted utopia but received tyranny. In the name of The Party anything was justifiable: the ends (utopia) justified the means (murder). And so, millions of Russians were murdered under Stalin's orders because they questioned his policies and methods.

The play dealt with one Russian official, Nicholai Rubashov, who has dedicated his life to The Party above all else and suddenly finds himself arrested. In dealing with his story, the Drama Department constructed four different sets on stage including a permanent jail cell. These sets were used in a series of flashbacks that revealed Rubashov's entire life. Long, hard work by the actors and stage crew made this play truly outstanding.

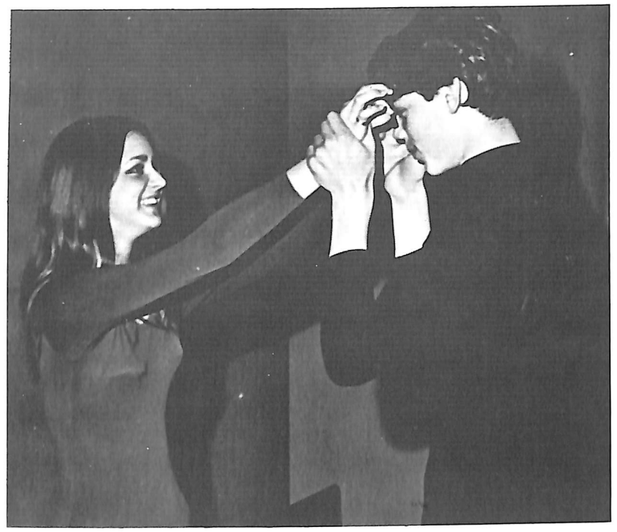

"You're not to go near my prisoner, Gletkin." Ivanoff

"Tear up your union cards, you're through!" Rubashov

"Adam and Eve" Juniors

"The Diaries of Adam and Eve" by Mark Twain was the play presented by the Junior class. Debby Stanley, as "Eve" and Pete Kincart as "Adam" read the journals of the first beings on earth while Diane Seely and Cliff Vrla represented the characters in silhouette. Debbie Stanley won the "Best Actress" award for her portrayal of "Eve". The play was directed by Timm Green and Kathy Ellis.

"Adam", Cliff Vrla, gets to know "Eve", Diane Seely.

Adam is exhausted after naming all the animals.

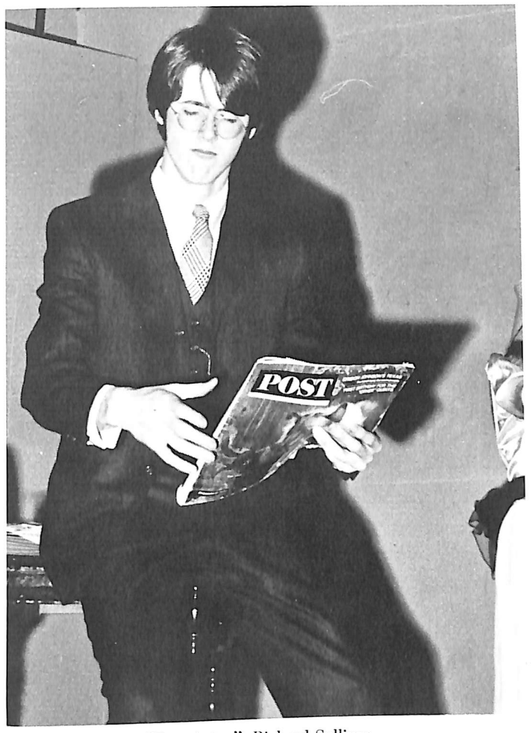

Ann Kennerly, "mother", and Penny Glaspey, "daughter".

Main characters pose for camera.

"The Image" - Sophomores

A stirring drama by John Kirkpatrick, "The Image" was this year's production by the Sophomore class. A politician never seen in the play was accused of misusing the power of his office. The play concerns the feelings of his family and the struggle they had in deciding if he was guilty. The play was directed by John Steele and Kathy Steele. The Sophomores won the "Best Attendence" award.

"Best Actor", Richard Sullivan.

"Behind The Beyond" Seniors

"Behind the Beyond" is a comedy by Stephen Teacock. Dick Sullivan won the "Best Actor" award for his portrayal of Sir John. Val McIntyre as his young wife falls in love with Archie Cunningham, Sir John's illegitimate son. The plot grows thicker yet and finally ends with Sir John being reunited with his first love, Mrs. Harding, portrayed by Chris Kennerly. The result was hilarious and "Behind the Beyond" was chosen "Best Play". The directors were Terry Bruce and Kelli Brown.

Vicki Dippner was the French maid.

Sir John "happens" upon his wife and son.

Todd Sloan was the stone-faced butler.

50th Golden Anniversary - May Day

1969 marks the 50th celebration of the tradition of May Day at West Linn. The first May Day was held outdoors and was reigned over by a queen and her court of four princesses. The Maypole was wound and a tradition begun. Today the Debutants, a gymnastic performance, the Queen's song by the Mixed Ensemble, square dancers and the winding of the Maypole all take their place in a tradition. The best of all days - - our "Golden Anniversary of May Day".

Princess JACKIE PHILPOT

Escorted By Dave Sparks

Jackie stands 5' 2" tall, has blond hair and blue eyes. As a Sophomore, Jackie took part in the One-acts and the following year she was the Junior class Homecoming Princess for football and Junior class Secretary. This year she holds the positions of FTA vice-president and Senior Business Club vice-president. Petite and pretty Jackie will attend Oregon College of Education in the fall.

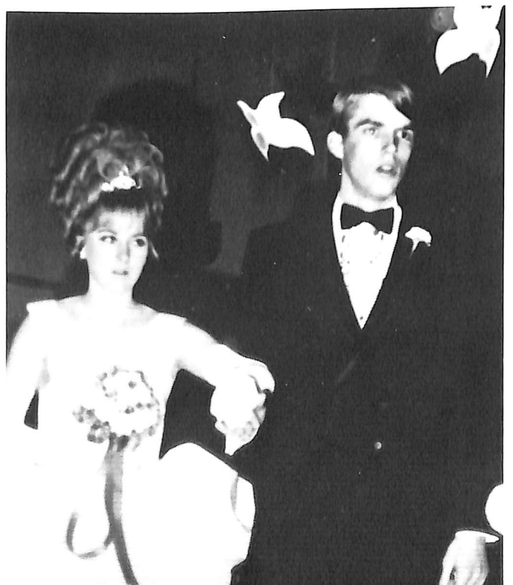

Maypolers added new steps to old dance for May Day's 50th vear.

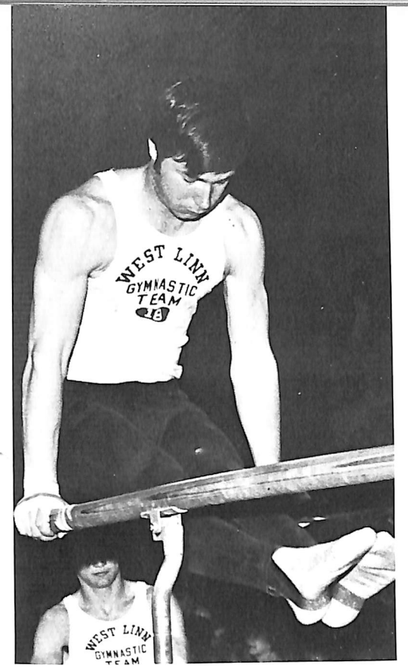

Julie Reddaway leads the 1969-70 Debs.

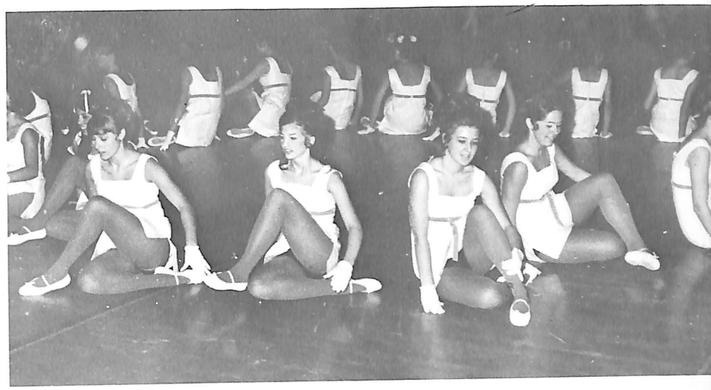

Jackie showed her "happy face" in campaign for May Day princess.

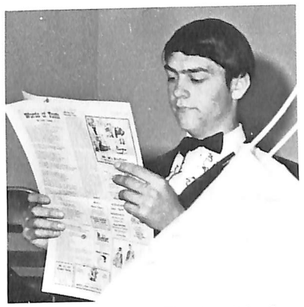

Jon Bake performed routine on parallel bars.

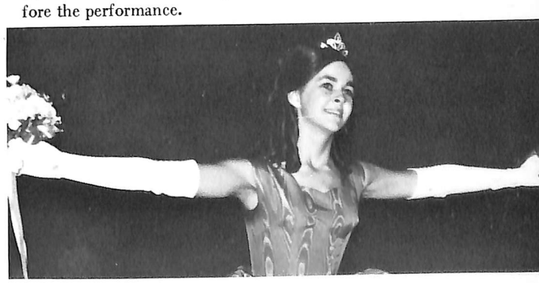

Debutantes were an important part of May Day.

Todd relaxed with The Amplifier before the performance.

Peppy Princess Carol has promoted spirit during her four years at West Linn by being a member of J.V. and Varsity Rally, Debutantes, and IRC. She has been active in Senior Business Club and was a princess on the Christmas Ball Court. Carol stands 5' 5" tall with dark brown hair and hazel eyes. She has been an Honored Queen of West Linn Bethel. Carol plans to attend Oregon College of Education next fall.

Princess CAROL ELLIOT

"Golden Anniversary" Queen's Ball

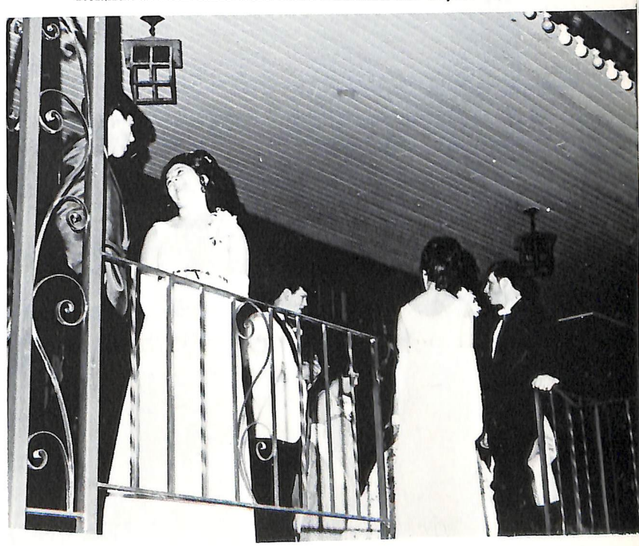

Relaxed at their table were Steve Anderson and Gayla.

Gerald Schwary and The Shadows were the entertainment for the evening.

Mrs. Lind, Mrs. Elliot and Mrs. Saul were among the chaperones.

The Queen's Ball 1969 was a golden sequel to the 50th Annual May Day celebration. The ball officially began with the introduction of the eight radiant princesses and the lovely queen. Fifty couples danced amid decorations put up by the Juniors in the ballroom of the West Linn Inn. The magic of the setting and the occasion made it an unforgettable evening.

Student Body Officers

President Dennis Greenman addresses an assembly.

Colleen Elliot, assistant treasurer, "counting all her money."

Vice-president Rick Rollins, airing ideas.

The year of '68 - '69 has been one of learning, frustration, and accomplishment. As the student body officers of the past year, we have really enjoyed serving West Linn High. Perhaps the biggest accomplishment made this past year, is the understanding and confidence we have found in Mr. Zacur and his staff and the trust he has found in us. The communication gap between the faculty and us was broken this past year. The willingness to cooperate and work together and hear each other's ideas and requests has truly been a learning experience for both sides. This was a goal set by us in the beginning of the year and I think we have taken a big step for future student body officers. We are most proud to have had the honor to serve such a great student body as that at West Linn High School.

Hollis Thomas takes notes and a suntan.

Foreign Exchange Student from Turkey

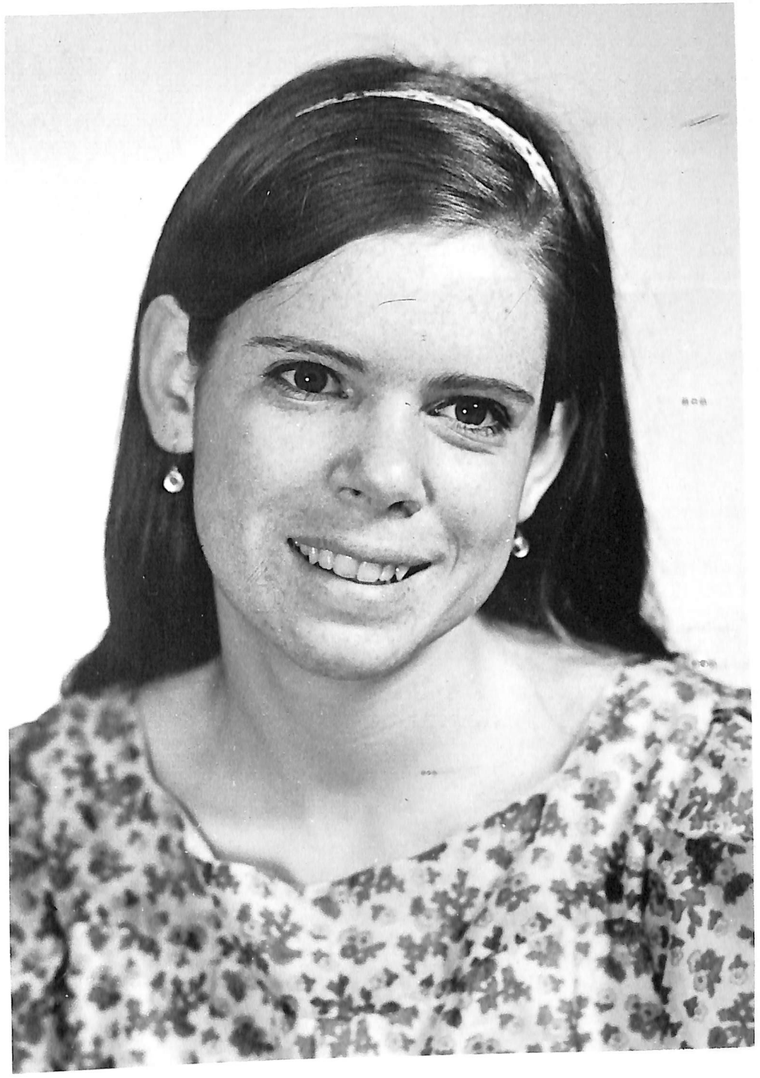

Abbas Yongacoglu

When I came to West Linn, I was expecting to learn some new things and a new language. During the year I have spent at West Linn, my heart has grown as much as my mind and body have. I have discovered that being alive is like being a tree in a forest; alone and free, yet in brotherhood. This is the way I hope to live.

I know many things can be forgotten very easily, but I'll always remember the friendship I have found at West Linn.

Abbas Yongacoglu

AFS Summer Exchange Student To Costa Rica

Heather Jenner

Costa Rica is a fabulous country! Anyone who has a chance should visit there. The A.F.S. program made it possible for me to go and I hope there will be more people who apply for the American Abroad program in the future.

My family there is still as close to me as my own family here.

I can't think what I liked best. I loved everything. My trip to Costa Rica was a very valuable experience, I learned that although people have different language and customs they are no different from people anywhere else.

Freshmen

THE INVASION

On the second week of September of 1968 the natives of West Linn High found themselves the subjects of an Invasion. Little green Freshmen stormed the halls of West Linn. Each member was full of fresh energy, new ideas, and great curiosity.

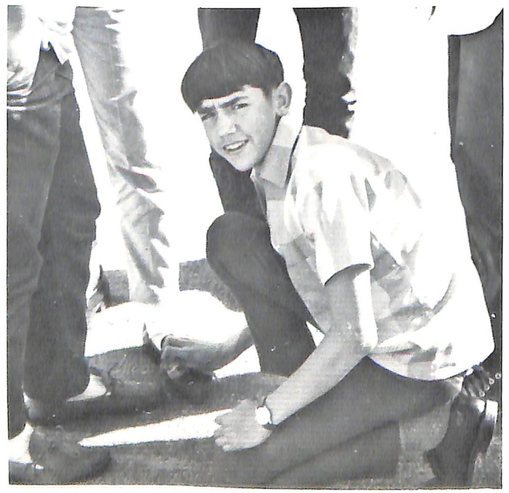

The first of the four year-long battle is now in the past. So is initiation, Doughnut Court, sports, plays, and other activities many in which Freshmen participated. With their great ambitions these mighty cubs look toward a good future at West Linn High.

Sophomores being the largest class in the '68 - '69 school year showed a great deal of potential. They gained varsity places in Football, Basketball, Wrestling, and Track. Forensics, Honor Society, and Thespians drew outstanding membership from this class.

Participation, enthusiasm, leadership, are key words for the Class of '71. They work together too as proven in winning the Bag Rush and sponsoring Homecoming. If the Sophomores keep working in the above way, they will be rated one of the finest classes to graduate from West Linn.

Helping with Homecoming activities is Jan Reinke.

Looking Back on Life

We never were united, Freshmen never are. Our Sophomore year the Gladstone students formed their own school (and what a fine job they did). They left our class small and short of strong leaders. We sur d though, each in his own way; individuals n strong minds. We always managed to do our best; from this people named us "small but mighty." We had some pride in ourselves though we never bragged like other classes did. We were the "Spirit of '69."

Our Senior year came fast and is gone. No one will ever foget it. We found ourselves each in his own way. Yet many felt a need for a change. This year, we elected Nixon as president;Robert Kennedy was assassinated; 18 year old vote was proposed; the Vietnam War was at its worst; and more problems were created that needed solutions. It was time to change at W.L.H.S. We formed a Senior Action Committee (S.A.C.), late in the year, that strove to improve dress regulation, academic activities, and a foot hold in governing decisions. The S.A.C. brought out a re-evaluation of Student Council and the Administration alike. It began to air problems between the Administration and students. We started some Action which no other class has done before.

Each Senior can look back over his four years and find the happy moments. The most important moments though, are the insignificant ones that made us more mature and a bit wiser. One day we found ourselves graduating. Now we are free to search for new things, and be satisfied that we will find them.

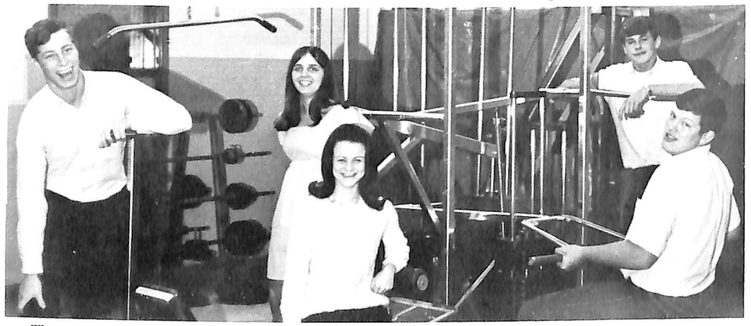

No Senior can ever forget the last pep assembly where the entire class stood by its' team and rally to sing the Alma Mater.

Lost in the Christmas lights is Dave Sparks . . . . involvement.

These strongly developed leaders are: Ernie Kahle, President; JoAnna Dobson, Treasurer; Rudi Lusher, Vice-President; seated are: Cheryl Savage, Secretary; and Doug Spray, Sgt. at Arms.

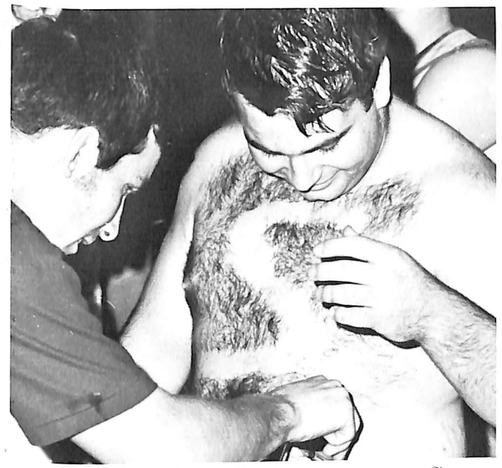

(Above) At their last football banquet these players sing "Don't Fence Me In", to their mothers.

LAWRENCE PREFOUNTAIN

Sept. 20th, 1922 - April 4th, 1969

Smiles and laughter are two great essentials to happiness; Mr. Prefountain had both as well as the understanding and wisdom that make a teacher one that students remember. He knew the potential of a young mind and he helped many realize that potential. His smile was often a curtain that hid his pain from his friends, one example of his great courage. Students, Brittany Spaniels, horses and field trials were the highlights of Mr. Prefountain's life.

We all agree; Mr. Prefountain felt that where there was an open mind, progress could be made. We have lost some of that progress in losing him.

In Memorium

DUANE STETZEL

Dec. 9, 1950 - April 2, 1969

People come into our lives,
And walk with us a mile,
And then because of circumstance,
They only stay a while.

They serve a need with in the time,
That moves so quickly by,
And then are gone, beyond our reach,
We often wonder why.

God only knows the reason that,
We meet and share a smile.
Why people come into our lives,
And walk with us one mile.

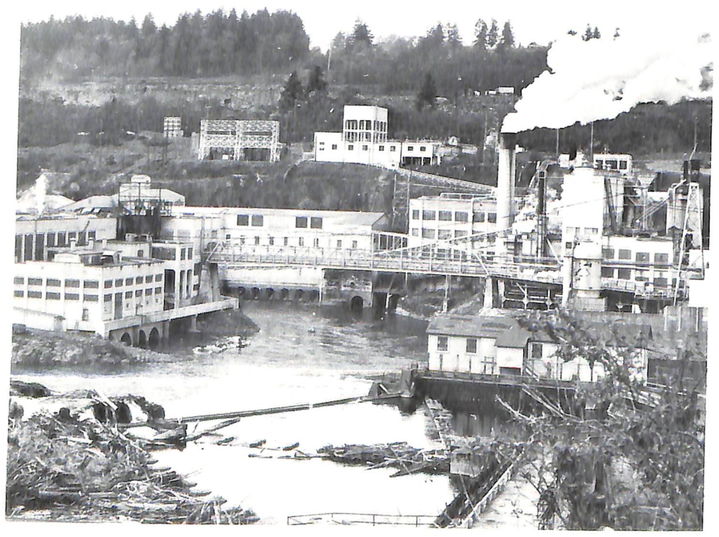

"My Friend was Duane"
