Once you choose your filter options and review timesheet details, you can begin to choose a series of action items for those timesheets.

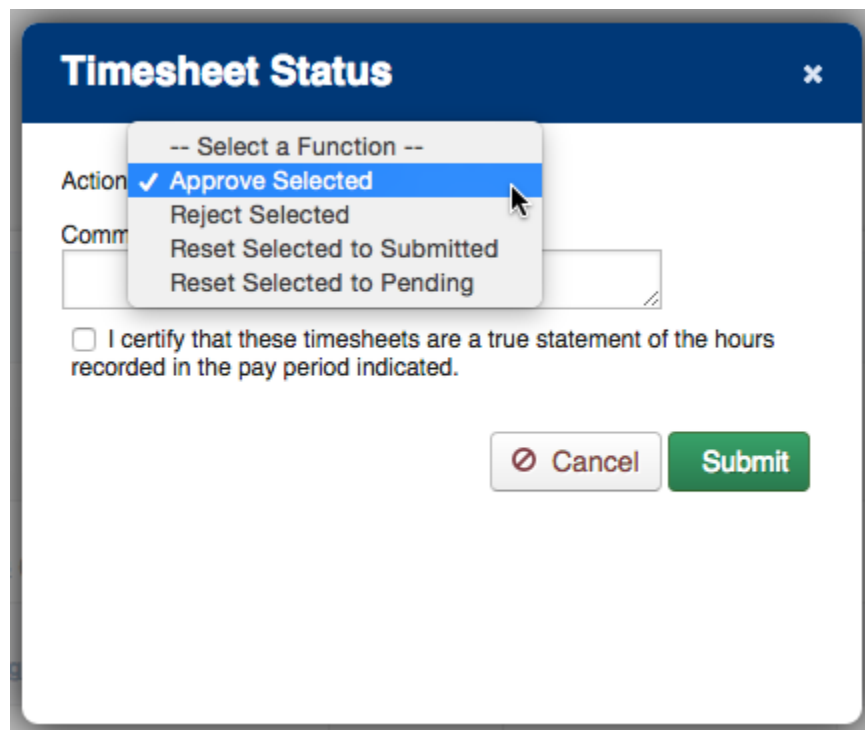

Reports > People, Time, & Payroll > Timesheet Review

First, select the user(s) whose timesheet(s) you wish to approve, reject, or reset. Simply click the checkbox beside any number of users, or click the checkbox beside "User" at the top to choose the entire list.

Keep in mind, a single selection does not apply to all pages. You must make selections on each page you wish to include.

Comment

I certify that these timesheets are a true statement of the hours recorded in the pay period indicated.

Each option provides passage toward a forward or reverse stage in the approval process. If a timesheet requires additional details or a re-cap on time worked, the approver can reject or reset the submittal stage. If a timesheet is approved, it cannot be edited unless reset to "submitted" or "pending."

Keep in mind, if you reject a timesheet you may be required to select a "Reject Reason" and leave a comment. You should only reject a timesheet if that employee has the permission to edit their own timesheet and make a correction.

Click the checkbox to signify your approval, and choose Submit once you are finished.
